Catch the Trend: Life Insurers, Private Funds and Capital Requirements – Issues & Insights

Two interrelated areas in the insurance sector have been under increased regulatory and journalistic scrutiny recently – life insurance company capital, and fund acquisition and ownership of insurance businesses. This seminar will explore the following:

- Alleged abuses caused by certain kinds of captive reinsurance structures;
- Developments in this space from the standpoint of insurers, funds, regulators and others;
- Recent actions by the NAIC and state insurance departments that pose challenges for securitizing or otherwise monetizing insurance reserves;
- Risks for private funds acquiring insurers; and
- Opportunities and observations on how to navigate these choppy waters.
